The Advance Threshing Machinery.

The best and fastest thresher in America, and a machine that stands without a rival. The ADVANCE Thresher has NEVER been REPLACED by any other machine on the Coast, but has replaced soveral others that HAVE FAILED to fill WARothers that HAVE FALLED to all WAR-RANTEE. Why got some OLD STYLE machine because it is cheap when you can get an ADVANCE on the start and do good work in any kind of grain. You do not have to cut and try with the ADVANCE, have to cut and try with the ADVANCE, but start your power, then commence threshing at once. I take the liberty of referring you to the following parties owning ADVANCE Threshers (without their knowledge): Dr. H. A. Davis, Harrisburg, after wasting most of the season trying to run a cheap machine. bought-an ADVANCE and averaged 2206 bushels per day. M. F. White & Co., Dixio. same experience, but after getting an ADVANCE averaged 2046 bushels per day. Knox Bros., Albany, with a little 23-inch machine averaged 1650/5 bushels per day. Honry T. Bold, Spangle, writes, after trying a — machine the best part of the season bought an ADVANCE. Was then able to run without a blacksmith and carpentenshop. The ENGINE is guaranteed to pull more than any other, and will outravel all others on the road. If you bear any loud beasts, please tell the parties the ADVANCE THRESHER and ENGINE are sold on their merits entirely. And I ADVANCE THRESHER and ENGINE

LETTERS OF GREEKEY.

Interesting Epistles Written to Charles A. Dana Thirty-Four Years Ago. New York, May R.—Through the courtesy of Charles A. Dans, the Kinduy Tribuse publishes simultaneously with the Sun seven column of intera written by Hirace Greeley in the winter of 1855-56 to Dans, then managing ed too fitter awritten by Hirace Greeley in the winter of the Tribuse Moss of the letters were written from Washington They deal mainly with the Kennas controversy. These letters are most interesting, especially to journalists, and down Greeley as he was always in hot carnest, sanguine and topubalve, sometimes mistaken, but manifully ready at all times to acknowledged justice, always courageous and stornally honest. They are tightened too, by humor, to which the serious nature of most of Greeley's public writings gate too little play Some of his comments on the ariciastudes of newspaper management are irrestably comfeal, when he wrote the letter he knew already what it was to softer under a bindgeon in the ande so southern bully, and he was anticipating an attack at the Lands of Judgo Shankland.

They Roam Through the Streets Several Hours Before Captured. Hours Before Captured.

CHICAGO, May 19—Two gray volves, a mountain itou and a pauther had a brief spell of liberty, and for an hour explored the streets of Chicago last night at their will. As the wagons belonging to a circus were revesting the railroad tracks a passenger train struck one of the vech cles loaded with which and massled it to atoms. The animais finding themselves liberated scattered in all directions. After a long chase and a vigorous use of whips and iron bars the animais were finally captured without airshody being harmed. The injuries of the diver on the wagon were severe but not faral.

Corporal Tanner Wait Establish a New Division for Them.

Warnington, May 19.—Corporal Tanner, commissioner of pensions, is considering the advissibility of adding an entirely new division for his different examiners, according to the state to which the soldier was assigned when he entered the service of the government. It has been the custom of all examiners to basten what are called original cases, at the expense of applicants for an increase of pension. The result is, that while the original cases are well up, the claims for an increase of pension. The result is, that while the original cases are well up, the claims for an increase of pension. The result is, that while the original cases are well up, the claims for an increase are far behind. Commissioner Tanner proposes to have one division in his office devoted entirely to increase claims, no matter what may have been the original residence of the soldier applicant. It is believed that this course will have a decided effect in hastening to final action cases which have been delayed in some instances.

But all the mills continue running, and makeurs, included in the continue running, and makeurs, instead of improving are getting worse. It was hoped that the tears to tend of the make the past winter would canse a renewal of the humber demand in the bouth, but this has not been the case. During the last few months a few of the mills have been running only a certain number of days per month, but there are so many in the business that their abstinence cuts but a slight figure in the general output.

It is realised that matters will not improve until at least half the mills now in operation close down, thus limiting the production and enabling the remaining dealers to dispose of their accumulations and to supply only sufficient to meet the demand. With this object there have been held received and the time times of the process of formation. Two or three meetings of mill-owners and improves of formation. Two or three meetings had been held aiready, and if the pian of action advocated very warmly by some of the most prominent lumber dealers in the business is adopted, production will be reduced at least three-quarters and a gigantic pool formed to divide the earnings.

The Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church Opened for Public Services.

The Brethern Hear the Initiatory Se-mon-Brief Description of the Interior Discourse of Ber. Arthur J Brown

The first services in the chapel of the new First Presbyterian church on the corner of Tenth and Alder streets was held yesterday morning. The chapel list is a line, commoditus apartment, having a confortable seating capacity of 530. The main auditorium is 8577 feet and the gallery in the real has a width of 32 feet. As the seats in the gallery are arounged on an incline the pulpit is in full view from any part of the auditorium. The window casements and other linterior wood work are made of the best Origon coder with hardolf finish. An elegant carpet covers the floor, and the seats are improved operarchairs.

I ken im we desire fold a blieshing to rest upon it Great and tender was the blessing which rested upon the old church, and we pray for ever a richer beneficious upon the new. The text declares, however that his blessing is conditioned by our fidelity. It behowes us therefore, to imquire what the work is that foll expects of ms and by the performance of which we may retain his favor. In other words.

What is the mission of a Preabyterion church? Let ms grant significant disapprehension by say may be the following the inequators in many when he predicts his own-cover.

THE PRESETTERIAN CHURCH es not claim to be the church. It simply lims to be a part of the church and as the

as in some respects, are yet in thing as vaniantly as we are as we are. But in addition to this we believe that we have a work pseudiar to ourselves. Therefore I aftern that our mession is second to exemptly those principles of government which are the distinctive characteristics of Presbyterianism. First smoot those principles is:

FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE.

**Represerrative Government*

We would avoid the looseness of absolute focal independence on the one hand and the arbitrary rule of centralized interference of the other we believe in the golden interference of a government by representatives chosen by not people in whom only it can come the golden and the whom only it can come. Thus like the United whom only it can come that substantially trebytran law in policid to civil affairs, we are one and yet may combine the golden and interfered we man government. All of to this first course of appeal we have a gradually ascending scale of church judications. This magnificent property comprises 1400 lots and lies immediately between the city of Past Portland (population 12,000) on the sout 1 and the city of Alim (population 4007) on the north, being really a "reserve" between two populous centers with a comit med population of $1X111 V FROUSAND. It is high, commanding a view of this entire cities of Portland, Last Por land and albina and is reached by the sirect cars of the Williamette Bridge Railway Co from either Portland or East Portland. This company is now operating two hiers of street cars, one running north from Holladay's addition, through the learn of Fast Portland, arrows the Morrison street tridge, and the other running due west across the new steel bridge, both lines terminal by in Portland. In addition to these two lines the cars of the Vancouver motor line run directly through Holladay's addition from north to south. The property can also be easily reached from the "west sude" by either the Southern Facilic Railroad Company's steam ferry or by the small ferries running from Portland to Albina. Some of the finest residences on the "east side" are located in thus addition. Many of the most prominent residents of Portland and East Portland are now purchasing property in Holladay's addition and many elegant and substantial residences will be constructed there during the coming year. A magnificent Boulevard, Hol aday avenue, 100 feet wide, cuts through the entire property from west to east, and is now one of the most popular drives out of the city. This connects with the new steel railroad and wagon bridge (spanning the Williamette) on the west, thus giving easy access into Portland from this most desirable property. Address or call on

GRAND RAILROAD EXCURSION

—то---Excellent Location, G-PASS

The Largest and Most Progressive City of Its Age in Oregon.

SPECIAL TRAIN, FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1889-

A Magnificent Daylight Ride Through the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue River Valleys.

Round Trip $7.50 : . . : : Distance, 600 Miles.

Regular fare, $24.00 Making this the lowest railroad rate ever obtained in this State. A three days' outing among the sparking streams, fruit laden valleys and pine clad hills of Southern Oregon. The Grant's Pass Special, consisting of 10 first-class day coaches will leave the Southern Pacific depot, East Por land, on Eriday, May 31, at 7 A. M., arriving at destination 12 hours later Returning will leave Grant's Pass, Sunday, June 2, at 7 A. M., arriving at East Portland at 7 P. M., thus making the entire run of 600 miles by daylight. The number of tackets has been limited to 200, and will be on sale at Portland, Oregon City, Salem, Albani and Eugene. First class accommodations have been arranged for at reduced rates, so that the entire expense of the trip, including the fare, need not exceed $10. One of the features of the occasion will be a grand outdoor dinner on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the people of Grant's Pass. The object of the excursion is to exhibit the property of the Grant's Pass. Improvement Co. consisting of 5 and 10-acre fruit tracts, also 300 choice residence and business lots in the original townsite, which will be offered for sale on the occasion at prices ranging from $30 to $150 each; terms, one-half cash; balance in one year. The highest priced business lot, 7 ght in the midst of business, is only $150. Fifty dollars will buy a choice residence lot, five blocks from the can ter of the city. Remember that the future growth of Portland is dependent largely upon the increased settlement of the Willamette Uniqua and Rogue River Valleys, and that means that money invested in Grant's Pass, or, in fact, any town on the O. & O rose from Oregon City to Ashland, must bring a handsome return, in time, to the investor. All those purchasing property from the Improvement Co on this occasion will have full railroad fare returned. Secure your railroad tickets at once, as the number is limited to 200, and a large number have already been spoken for

AN IMPERALCE HISTORY

George Bancroft the venerable historian of the United States, cannot survive many months. He is 89 years of age can no longer ride on horeback as he has all his life unti He is confined to his house, and scount upon his early death the just criticism passed upon his great work. That criticism is that his work needs to be supplemented by a more accurate history of our country Charles A. Dana a profound historial student, says I clore the civ I was it was impossible for writ who a truth about the attitude of the American i copic toward the s ruggle for independence or about the tremendous indebtment of the thrices toloules to France Had Bancroft tentured to set forth the naked truth about the revolution he would have exposed himself to exercision. We Master does not begin the task of defineation until the war of independence was over and the present constitution had been framed. The materials however of securite history are exumit. They have waited only for the right unfiltedning and on the other contents of the strength of the rest. hearth, and he had to trust to Thornton's keen eves for the fighting of his ship Thornton years before the wir was a pus senger on a steamer to Hivana. The steamer took fire the captain lost his head, the crew attempted to break for the boats, when Thornton assumed command. With a revolver in each hand he drove the multinous crew from the boats. r centive temper on the part of the audience admeasurement of the quantitative and qualitative value of the desire for separation from Great Britain in 1776 and thereafter up to November 1781 What was the real state of feeling in New Hampshire, outside of Portsmouth? In Massachusetts outside of York co ony, outside of the Livingston conwhose hostility to England meant jectousy of the De Lauceys, that for upward of a generation had monopolized the colonithe guit of the crown? As to New Jersey Pennsy vania and Delaware it is impossible to read between the lines even of the cau sion that there was not a day up to the sur render of Cornwalite when the inhabitants if they had been intrly polled, would have not shown a majority of loyalists. In Mary land and Virgi is the dorising for a depend ence although political in name was largely social and accurion

In Maryland and Virginia the small farmers and landless classes were against the crown just as the mountaineers of hast Tennessee West Virginia and Western North Carolina were for the Union in 1801 because their interests were all opposed to sinvery and the trumph of the slaveocracy The great landowners and their dependents except where divided by local political and tions just as there were in the great English revolution of 1640. The great bulk of the Figlish aristocracy sided with the king but there were a few exceptions, like Fanfax kuser Manchester and Waller just as in or instocratic birth and lineage th the Prench revolution an except onal man land because at had been largely rettled, like Pennsylvania, by Scotch Lish Presby terians In South Carolina and Georgia party of the king was very strong and had their own way completely until Washington sent Greene with some excellent troops to one half of the rank and file of the Conti mental army were of Irish birth or Irish dea cent which was not true of the large forces raised by the colonies in the so ciled Freuch and Indian war

Ten years after the neace of 1783 the feder shat party which represented most of the wealth and education of the country was pronounced in favor of England and against France although France had spent 1900 000 600 m aiding America with large money loans, ships and soldiers. France unques tionably gave us an enormous assistance, without which we never could have won our independence. Without De Grasse's fleet and Roch imbeau a soldiers victors at York town could not have been possible

Mr Dana is of the common that the true history of the American Revolution will not be written until it has been written with the help of the materials to be found in the help of the materials to b. French archives We quote Bancroft has acknowledged that these sources of information are of incompliantle, value but from mot ves of prudence nathral to an au thor who did not court repudation at the ha de of his sersitive countrymum he has made but of partial and circumspect use of the materials in question \ well ki o \n sti dent of French and American history—\lambdar Joi n Durand—has lately from the French throps of France to I bladelphih during the Revolutionary nar which catholism is a startling light the secondary part plaved by American particle in the consta with England The pirely American contribution to the result of the war for independence culminate. In the view of the war for independence culminate. In the view of a starting and in the personal conduct at did aracles of Wushington. We repeat that the time has come for reviewing and rewriting the story of the Revolutionary and constitutional epoch.

Theory language of the real for the colonyal

The explanation of the real for the colonial cause manufested by the Scotch Irish Pres-by terlans was due to the fact that they were discendants of men who by the oppression of the English bishops had been driven out of Ul ter in the early part of the Eighteenth century Among these men of hard natures and vinductive memories were Generals stark bullivan Mercer knox Wayne and

Although we have hear not oak for the ning, we have plently of hembock and can import tanning material for fluiding such leather as cannot be smale with bomicok. Most of the leather, though, could be manufactured here at home. Fortland should by all means get a number of shoe factories here as well as tameries, and what is more, sho is bound to have them sooner or later. Such manufacturing industries would have a remarkable effect on the commercial activity of the villy. When it is known that on an average about 20 cases of boots and shoes, per week, no imported from Boston alone, not to say anything of what is sent by scores of other shoe manufacturing cities, it will be seen that the city can well simport meth an industry. VARIOUS NOTES FROM ASHLAND.

ASILAND, Oc., May 18.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Curry have left here and goge to Grauf's Peets to reside.

The new rings line from here to Linkville makes its regular trips and is doing well.

J. L. Peninington, who left here last fail for the Soun 1 country, has returned. He says Ashlond is good chough for him.

Our milliary boys propose giving a grand ball on the night of July 4. They will have their new uniforms then and will put on lots of style.

The new hotel of Mr. Strait, on the site of the old ashlend house, is now raised and will make quite an improvement to that part of the city.

They say the rain never fails in Oregon. The people of Ashland think now we have been needing rain and, now it has come in good time and in lear quantities.

Charles Thayer, an ironworker, who rooms over the California restaurant, while intoxicated last highl, ran his orne through a window, indicting a fearful gash. He was taken to the city jull, where the wound was sewed up by Dr. Rand.

Chris Laemer and his two children, a boy of 9 Chris Leemer and his two-children, a boy of 9 and girl of 6, were brought to the city jail last evening by Officer Coffiu. Laemer, has been going syound to saloons seconpanied by the children and getting drunk. The youngsters are bright and healthy looking and say thefr nothers dead. They occupied a straw pallet in the front cell, while on the coll lounce a girl of for thereabouts was resting. All were wide awake at 2 o'clock this morning, the children thinking a night in jail quite an interesting upisode.

BRIEF MENTION.

The value of a pieno is practically determined by its popularity with the people. The instrument that meets with the warmest reception in the United States to-day is the matchless Becker Brother's pano, bandled by The Kohler & Chase Musia House, 71 Morrison.

Weil, Hardly.

New York World (Dem.)

Interviews with members of the democratic nutional committee, princed in the World, show that Calvin & Brice is well backed for the vacant chairmanship of the committee. Can the democratic parity—the supposed foe of monopolics and the rising plutocracy—hope to make a successful fight under the field mershalship of, a millionaire railway magnate?

The Peach and Plum Borer, and Eow to Destroy Them.

THE NEW CREAMERIES A SUCCESS.

Seasonable Hints for Making the Market Garden a Profitable One.

THE BEST CORN FOR SILAGE.

Fruit Prespects East of the Mountains-The Cow Pen-Poultry Boratchings-Transferring Bees-Tne Big Bend Country.

"A year ago," says an extensive fruit grower, "1 found my trees badly—very badly, too—infested with the peach borer, and quite a number were killed by them. I paging, soo—intested with the peach boter, and quite a number were killed by them. I had about 6000 prune and peach trees, ranging from 3 years old to 15, and most of them 7 and over. I saw that it was a desperate case, and my first intimation was seeing some very thrifty Italian prunes turning yellow, and seeming about to die. I dug them ur, and found borers by the dozen and of all sizes. Some almost as large as a little finger ware coiled under the bark after having almost girdled the tree. Of over 5000 trees there were some cultivated peach, some prunes and plums grafted on the peach, and some thrifty prune trees on native plum stock that were bearing three or four bushels of fruit to the tree—all were indested, and from some of the largest we took out from three to fifteen, and even twenty, horers that had grown fat there, and were ready to go into the crysalis state. It was one of the most discouraging sights over seen, for I had expected an immense, crop of fruit, and feared the worms had ruined their bearing capacity. But I got my crop, probably as fine as ever was gathered, and saved my trees, and I am going to tell you how I did it.

"Just at that time I saw in The Oregonian did it.

"Just at that time I sawin The Oregonian an accur of borers and how to destroy them. It said there, was only one way to kit the worms. While the little ones might ones had their homes well under the halk, and anything that could kill them (in the way of solut on of any kind) would kill the tree first. Now the borer hiches from an egg laid an inch or so from the ground on the bark of the tree. As soon as the worm facthers it begins to eat its way down in a channel that it cerves in the bark. When it gets under ground it commences to bore studii holes into the roots or at the base of the root under ground. From these borings the gue exades and makes a thick mass, and gets under ground it commences to bore struit hoise into the roots or at the base of the roots or at the base of the root winder ground. From these borings the gum exudes and makes a thick mass, and between the gum and the bark the young weren operates tuttil targe enough to go insufe; then if bores in and eats its way to channels, where it pleases, often going up under the bark in the so't sap, until it is some inches mhève ground, but generally it gnaws across the bark, or goes down and follows across the bark, or goes down and follows acmo bunch root. If it circles the main tree it is killed by being girdled. Sometimes they do not kill a tree, and it grows over, as the work is mostly done under ground. This being the york they did, the only way to kill them, as The Oregonian said, was to go after them with a good kinfe of size enough to do the work. The paper said to dig away the did and expose base and main roots, and then exceyate the bark for worms. I organized a force and set them to work, and they warked well. It cost at least $100, and probably more, to rid that orchard of horers. One man uncovered the roots and left the dirt well cleared away; then came two or three men with stout knives, who dug out the worms. There was always gum where or three men with stout knives, who due out the worms. There was always gum where borers worked, and they were easily identified. A tap on the bark told by the sound if they were inside; then the men due, cutting away bark and following the worm's excavation. It was often no small job to clean a large tree, badly infected, but they did it thoroughly and well. Last fall caure a men with a small whitowash brush and a pot of warm dope, or paint, as the paper called it, who thoroughly daubed his mixture over the roots and base and body of the tree a foot or so above the ground. Then there came along a man with a big plantation hoe, who hauled the dirt back and filled it up again who thoroughly dathed his mixture over the roots and base and body of the tree a foot or so above the ground. Then there came along a man with a big plantation hoe, who hauled the dirt back and filled it up again around the tree. As the miller always lays its eggs close to the ground on the body of the tree, the object was to paint enough of the bark with something the moth would not like, and prevent their laying there.

"This paint was hande of equal parts of whale oil soap, fish oil, sulphur and soft soap. Mix these ingredients and heat them together in an iron kettle, and then use it when thoroughly mixed. I think those were all the ingredients required. I used them as directed, and folt many doubte if I had not wasted my money. I saw this apring in occasional tree that seemed to be affected, but when I sot my men at work effectually they did not find over fifty wormy trees where last year there were 5000, so I concluded that my experiment was a success and hai saved a great part of my orchard. It is not expensive or difficult to put on the paint after the worms are dug out, and it is safe to say The Orgonatan's remedy will answer in every case. While some trees were word works.

sale to say The Orgonian's remedy will answer in every case. While some trees were infested, they had only a few worms, and were not as lest year."

The foregoing is reliable, and we have given sfull description because the subject is really of great importance. We know of instances where whole orchards have been tuined by borers, and others greatly injured. The borer works out of sight and is easily overlooded, and, in the sense of being injur-ous to peach, plum and prune trees, is the most demaging pest we have. Many neonle ous to peach, plum and printe trees, is the most desinging peat we have. Many people will find their trees to be badly infested, and will lose some of their most raluable ones unless they destroy the borers now at work and use some preventive for the future.

TRANSFERRING BEES.

A good bee smoker is needed so that you can have full control of the bees. They should be smoked thoroughly before operations begin and at frequent intervals before should be smoked thoroughly before operations begin and at frequent intervals before attempting to open the old hive. This will allow ample time for them to fill themselves with honey, which they never fail to do if thoroughly smoked. Turn the hive bottom side up, and with a cold chisel and hammer pry open and cut the nails from two sides of the hive. This will lay the combs hare so that they may be reached conveniently. Lay the frame to receive the combs flat upon a board which has been previously guttered not one half by one-half liches by every two inches of surface. This will allow a wonden needle to pass under the comb after it is fitted into the trame. By this means a cord of hart, twine is drawn over the comb and around the entire frame, and securely tied, spanning the frame every two inches. After the combs have all been removed cut, fitted and tightly bound into the frames, place them carefully into the new frame hive and roise the old live, which coutains the majority of the bees. With a brush of soft material or a stiff feather gently remove the bees into the new hive or to its entrance. In arranging the combs, place those containing the brood in the e-nter, and see that the brood occupes a compact mass in the hive. In a day or two like bees will have fastened the combs in the iranes, and will ultimately remove the twine fastening. They cannot do this if wooden strips or tin fustenings are used, fill the remainder of the frames with foundation, which I would recommend rather than crooked combs, but combs containing be brood in the wine lastening. They cannot do this if wooden strips or tin fustenings are used, fill the remainder of the frames with foundation, which I would recommend rather than crooked combs, but combs containing brood should all be used.—American Agriculterist for May

SEASONABLE GAEDEN HINTS.

After the first complete planting of gar-den crops, and when the ground has once been fully occupied, the careful gardener been felly occupied, the careful gardener will plan for succession crops to occupy each place as it becomes vacant. The ground having been weil enriched in the beginning, and well cultivated subsequently, it will pay better to work at for second, and even third crops, hann to manure and break up new ground. As to the best methods of continuously occupying the land, each gardener must be guided somewhat by the needs of his market. The first ground to become vacant will be that upon which were grown onfous beets and radiabes. As the onions and beets will be that upon which were grown pulled regularly (the largest being picked out as they become ready for market), vacant places will be made in the rows. In these may be put cabbage plants (a second early kind), filling only alternate rows, so that by the time the first crop is off, the ground will be fully occupied again, and ready for the continued use of the cultivator.

the time the first crop is off, the ground will be fully occupied again, and ready for the continued use of the cultivator.

The smaller a plant is when set out, the better it is, providing it has a stem stout and stocky enough to be handled without damaging it. A four-inch cabbago or sweet potato plant is better than a larger one, more sure to grow and to give a valuable product. The first requisite for success with such crops, especially with helery, is to have good plants. Planny, stock bunches of celery will bring two or three times as much it the market as thin, ill-shaped ones. To produce these to the fullest extent the blants must be transplanted at least once (wice is better) before being finally set in the rows. The first transplanting should be as soon as the plants are large enough to handle; the second, when they are four to six inches high, and they should then be cut back one-third their height. This can be done easily ard quickly by taking them up in bunches and clipping the tops with large shears.

The tomato plant will elso repay any especial care given in transplanting. This plant should remain about the roots and be kept there intact until the plant is rosek. An implement especially made for such purpove may be had at the seed stores for a small sum, or a garden trowel, carefully handled will do the work well.—American Agriculturial for May.

PERTILIZERS IN OREGON.

It seems that the American Agriculturist has been offering prizes for special purposes. The following is from a recent number of

The following is from a recent number of that journal;

W. C. Bostek, of Union county, Oregon, writes that he proposes to compete for the out prize, but will use no fertilizer whatever; and if he has no mishap, expects a large crop. He says: "I expect also to rry for the potato prize, and on that field shall probably try a tew hundred pounds of the Mapes potato manure. Our dry land here in Eastern Oregon seems to abound in all the clements of plant growth, the desideratum being sufficient moisture. The most sterile plains, which now earry only a natural growth of the homely and vile-smelling sage brish, when properly irrigated will produce from four to six tons of alfella hay per acre, and no manuring is ever thought of." He makes the suggestion—and it has much to commend it—that the rich soils of this region must be in a great uneasured ac to experience. commend it—that the rich soils of this re-gion must be in a great measure due to ex-cessive drought. But to think of a man sending from Oregon for potato fertilizer! We understand that other farmers on the Pacific coast propose to do likewise. Indeed it will not be strange if this leads to the establishment of a fertilizer factory on that side of the Rocky mountains. Certainly it the sugar industry thrives in California, phosphates and nitrates will soon be re-quired, and a fertilizer factory will be a ne-cessity.

phosphates and mitrates will soon be required, and a fertilizar factory will be a necessity.

Also the following: A correspondent at Union, Oregon, writes that he intends to compete for one of the American Agriculturia's orop prizes, but he fears his land is too rich for oats. "In breaking it up last season," he says. "I plowed up a great many old decaying buffalo bones; also a portion of the ground has been used as a corral for sheep, and so the trouble. I fear, is that it is too rich. Oats on very heavily manured iand out here are not likely to fill well. Is it worth while to try to apply a fertilizer to strengthen the straw?" Balt, by checking exaporation, is sunposed to correct some of the evils of over-luxuriance, but we would prefer to let them grow and trust to a bright sun and a comparatively dry season to ripen them. If the land was covered with grass or vegenation of any kind the sheep manure will not be likely to make it too rich the first year after plowing. The nitrates formed from the decomposition of the sheep manure and buffalo bones would be taken up by the grass, weeds or other vegetation, and if this vegetation was turned under it would only gradually yield its nitrogen to future crops.

CARE AT CALVING TIME.

It is wise to separate all incoming cows from the herd a week before the call is expected. This is easily to be known by the appearance of the cow, and every cow should be watched in this regard. It is not only a barbarity, but a strong provocation of trouble, due to nervous excitement, to permitted the strong provocation of the strong provocation of trouble. barbarty, out a sarong provocasion of trouble, due to nervons excitement, to permit a cow to drop a calf while fastened in a stall, or in stanchions, and it is an inexcussible wrong for a darryman to neglect his cow so as to let this be possible. It indicates such a general looseness of management as to account for the losses which make the dairy basiness so commonly unprofitable. For many years my plan has been to have a comfortable, roomy stall in a retirred part of the building (such as a tool or wagon house) set apart for this purpose, in which the cow may be either tied or left loose. This stall is seven by nine feet, with a feeding trough and water box, and is made so that it can be seen without opening the door. Here the cow is kept for a few days and well attended to. When the call appears, it is removed quietly to a distant part of the yard where the call pens are, and is left alone until the cow in milked, which is in six hours if in the day, or in the morning if the calf appears in the evention. milked, which is in six hours if in the duy, or in the morning if the call appears in the evening. The cow is given a drink of lukewarm gruel of bran or oatmeal, and the milk is taken from her and at once given to the calf, which is taught to drink it. The absence of the calf is rarely noticed by the cow, which is tied as soon as the calf is removed. If anything is wrong with the milking or the cow, she can be attended to with little trouble, and if any serious difficulty is apprehended, a dose of choom sale, followed by a dram of ineutre of aconite in a little gruel, may be given without delay.

American Agriculturist for May.

The Wallowa Chiefiain says: A number of our leading stockmen assembled at our late horse show, and talked together of a custom practiced in some of the Western states, of having acertain day in each month for meeting at a principal town, for the purpose of buying, selling or exchanging live stock, and manimously agreed that such a custom would be a fine thing for us here. having a certain day in each month for meeting at a principal town, for the purpose of buying, selling or exchanging live stock, and manimously agreed that auch a custom would be a fine thing for us here. They finally decided to adopt such a plan, and selected the first Saturday in each month, beginning with the first Saturday in une, for such a meeting at Enterprise. Such a plan accommodates both buyer and seller, as it brings them together. If a parly has a horse to sell, he finds the borse buyers all right here, instead of having to hunt them all over the county. Let everyone come, and make the first meeting. Suttered in such a plan.

The foregoing is signed by several of the leading stock raisers of Wailowa county, and it will be interesting to note the success that attends their suggestion and effort, for nodoubt they lived up to their ideas. Something of this kind should be done in everyonnity of our state. If sales days were regularly attended and all products as well as stock were offered for sale, in time it would result in a system that would prove of decided benefit to all.

result in a system that would prove of de-cided benefit to all.

CABBAGE AFTER EARLY POTATOES.

To get a good crop of cabbage after early potatoes, it is only necessary to have good strong healthy plants to commence with.
To obtain such, sow the seed in drills, nor less than a foot apart, and thinly in the row, the last week of May or the first week in the last week of May or the first week in June. One ounce of seed will produce 2009 plants, and if properly cultivated, on good soil, will produce the best plants in thirty days or by July 1. After digging, the potuto patch should be freshty-howed and the soil thoroughly pulverized. By plan is then to open furrows four feet apart and apply 500 pounds of some good fertilizer per acre in these-rows, covering with a corn coverer, and set the plants three feet spart on these ridges. Cover them deeply, even if the leaves are partly covered. Should the soil be dry or a dry spell be likely to follow, tramp around each plant after set ing. It is best to lift the plants with a digging fork rather than pull them from the seed bed, especially if at all dry. Last year I sowed both flat Dutch cabbage and cauliflower seed on June 1, had fine plants to set out June 29, and had both cabbage and cauliflower ready for market September 29.—

sent to thirty-seven farmers in that state Reports have been sent in by thirty of these-which show that the crop made a medium to good growth in twelve cases, the others be-ing indeterminate. Five only out of the whole number think there is a chance that it whole number think there is a chance that it would pay them to raise the cow pea as a regular farm crop, while eleven larmers very strongly pronounce it inferior to corn as a loader plant. This would seem to decide quite thoroughly that it is not a plant that will proye a benefit to the generality of farmers in the latitude of Vernount."

While this may be true of the North at points east of the Rocky mountains it may still be that the cow pea that thrives well in Missour, and Southern Illinois may prove a success in Oregon. We have made frequent Missour, and Southern Illinois may prove a success in Oregon. We have made frequent mention of it in the past, hoping that someone would procure seed and try its virtues here, for it it can thrive in Oregon it will add to our resources one of the most valuable plants k nown to Southwestern farmers.

ABOUT LAND SPECULATIONS.

Some of the incidents attending land spectalions afford an interesting study as showing the vicissitudes of fortune and the desperate chances, that so seem, but turn out to be elements of good fortune. Many years ago people purchased land and timber down be elements of good fortune. Many years ago people purchased land and fimber down the Columbia and on Stoadwater bay and Gray's harbor that is only now realizing their expectations, though some fortunes theyers of timber lands have actually coined moderate fortunes. About ten years ago someone came to a valley town from Seattle and offered to sell his holdings of land then in he suburis of that then only sprouting burg. One of the buyers—for half a dozen want in and bought—soon went over there and became disgusted with the hill he had to climb and the rough look of the illihee. Seattle was not anywhere near the lots, so, he went home and had a hearty hungh with his partners in speculation over the way they had been bilked. But they manage I to get their money back, some to spend in whisky and some to use one way or another. They lost nothing and made a little. The one who spied out the land sold a piece end got his money back. Some time after he was offered $1500 for the rest, and would have sold, but his wife refused, thinking the money would be squandered if the lots were disposed of. As a consequence they now have a hand-ome fortine for what they we years ago offered $2500. Had they sayed the whole and sold none the lots he held alone would to-day be worth $150,000, and as it is, from the proceede of what they had left after selling enough to get even on the purchase, they can clean up at least $75.000, and as it is, from the proceede of what they had left after selling enough to get even on the purchase, they can clean up at least $75.000, and as it is, from the proceede of what they had left after selling enough to get even on the purchase, they can clean up at least $75.000, and as it is, from the proceede of what they had left after selling enough to get even on the purchase, they can clean up at least $75.000, and as it is, from the proceede of what they had left after selling enough to get even on the purchase, they can clean up at least $75.000, and as it is, from the proceede of what they had left af

FRUIT PROSPECTS.

The prospect for fruit is said to be excellent east of the mountdins, wherever they have orchards in bearing, and the attention paid to fruit culture has increased so that there is more or less of fruit now produced throughout Rastern Oregon and Washington. In all parts of Western Oregon the indications favor very fair crop of fruits of all kinds. The cherry crop perhaps shows a greater rendency to failure than any other, probably due to the cold weather of the last three weeks, with cold rains that had an effect to cause cherries to hight somewhat. There will be larger and finer cherries if there are leswer of them.

Pears are setting more fully than before for years. The Britletts are very full, so far as we have seen, and will need to be thinned. Apples are not so forward. The season has been retarded somewhat by recent cool weather and rains, but fruit shows forwardness as compared with ayerage years.

The prune crop and plums all promise an excessive yield, and the fruit is becoming of size so as to be bayond any possible harm. Some report that the Itahinas were not promising well was heard, but we know of failure. Everything in the time of plums and prunes promises a full crop, except where trees becommonally last year and where trees hore enormously last year and where trees become meaning here to cold weather, but the setting of fruit is good enough, even where the curleaf prevails, as it does in all parts of the coast this year.

THE BEST CORN POB BILAGE. The prospect for fruit is said to be excel-

THE BEST CORN FOR BILAGE. In selecting corn to plant for the silo it is not wise in Northern Intitudes to decide wholly by weight and amount of crop. Experience has abundantly proved that the best variety of corn for silage is one which is capable of maturing tegrain in the latitude where planted. Triats made at the Minnesota experiment station showed that the large fouthern sweet form, while it yielded much greater weights of silage than yellow filmt, contained no more nutritive value, as the former was cut in an immature state to escape the first, while the latter bore ears which were glazed when cut. The large corn yielded, many tons of usoless weight to handle, and required increased space for storage, while the silage made from it was inferior in quality to that of the well-matured yellow flint corn. This precaution applies only to situations which are liable to visitations, of early frosts. Corn should be cut for the silo just as the kernels have become glazed; and no variety should be planted which cannot reach this condition before the first killing frosts.—American Agriculturist for May In selecting corn to plant for the silo it is

The statement that the droppings of one hen per year are worth 50 cents is going its annual round. We have kept about 100 hens on the average but find them credited with only $5 on our book for manure, or 5 cents each. Ten cents is the very highest that we yould be willing to allow for the annual manure crop from each ren.

By far the greater part of poultry diseases are on the outside, and their names are hen lice and mites or spiders. The bestremedies are buthach and kerosene, the former to be used on the fowls and the latter on the perches, in the nests and in the whitewash. These two substances give us absolute control of the insects that infest poultry and poultry houses, and consequently control of the so-called diseases resulting from insects.

—American Agriculturist for May.

THE NEW CREAMERIES.

The new creameries constructed through different parts of the country east and west of the Cascades have been at work some weeks, and are turning out No. 1 butter. Of course there is some disparagement, but this all vanishes on inspection and investigation. all vanishes on inspection and investigation. At Walla Walla they give down weight and very choice butter, and the farmers are pleased because they get more money from their orean than they did for their manufactured butter. The report from Baker City is also favorable. Farmers in Yamhill are doing as well or better trading cream to the McMinnville concern than they did making butter for themselves. The new creamerics have all done well so far as manufacture of butter is concerned. butter is concerned.

REMEDY FOR LICE.

Grease is destructive to all insect vermin which so much infest domestic animals, and at this season begin to multiply with great rapidity. Ten days only are sufficient to hatch a brood, and millions may be produced from one lou-e in the course of the summer. Their destruction now will save much annoyance in the future. Poultry may be freed from them by thoroughly whitewashing the house with the hot kinne wash, and well greasing the roosts with a mixture of any kind of grease and kerosene oil in equal parts. This mixture, with a few drops of creosotf added, rubbed on the backs, brisket, neck and under the legs of calves, will quickly free them from the vermin.—American Agriculturist for May. this season begin to multiply with great rapid-

THE LATEST SWINDLE.

One of our exchanges says: "This pea, so popular in the South, is not adapted to the North. The Vermont Experiment Station has been experimenting with it, and seed was matter of form," and gets himself in dobt for $200 or $300. The bland swindler gets what he fixes into a very nice negotiable note, and sells if for cash, while the deluded farmer can do nothing but groam. Exchange. An exchange may tell the above yarn and it may possibly be true that a swindler tries such a game, but no such note could be collected if the lacts were proved as above stated.

PEACH TREES. Thomas Farquar has, in his peach orchard, trees thirteen years old measuring thirty-four inches in circumference around the body, and the branches cover from thirty to forty feet in diameter of ground. This proves the fullacy of peach trees not being long lived in the Umpqua, for these same trees are thrifty and will last twenty years more from all appearances. To this we add that we know of peach trees that bear in the Willamette valley that were planted in 1845.

New York, May 17.—A new scheme of transportation is to be introduced between New York and Boston, whereby, it is said, large packages and cars containing passengers can be whisked from one place to the other, 230 miles, in less than an hour. An experiment with the machine was held in Boston in the presence of many scientists, including A. E. Dolbear, of Tuit's College. He announced that he was thoroughly salisited with the system. It consists of a magnetic car hanging from a single rail, where follows a current of electricity with one-horse power. It is said that one ton can be thus transported 140 miles a day at a cost of 30 cents.—Disputch to The Oregonian.

The application of electricity to machinery, as mentioned above, is not all the uses to which it can be applied. It cures most obstinate chronic diseases with wonderful and startling rapidity. Drs. Darrin, the electro-magnetic physic ans, employ this remedy with wonderful success, as a few of the following testimonials will show from the many that they are constantly receiving:

Another Realder, Heard From.

Mr. Editor: I have been explined more or less all winter with sciatic rheumatism in my right leg and hip, and I auffered exeruciating pain. I was also troubled with creeping paralysis in my right hand and fingers, with loss of sensation. Having heard much of the famed reputation of the Drs. Darrin I consulted them and put myself under their electro-magnetic treatment. The pain has now left my leg and hip, and I consider myself most entirely cured. The feeling has also returned to my hand and fingers, and I feel in every way improved under their treatment. I advise every one afflicted to try them, as I have found them honest in their theatment. I can be seen and referred to atway residence. Everyone knows me, as I have been in Astoria since 1852. Yours truly,

Mr. Editor—Hear Sir: I have for overeight years been troubled with my eyes. Lately my right eve became very n uch awollen and puintul, and I could not at times open it. I consulted Dr. Darrin and be said that my eye could be cured in about a week. He accomplished what he had promised in almost less time. I can be referred to, and I know of other cases that have been cured.

spect and thay found a watery grave beneath the treacherous waters of the placid river. The three boys engaged the sail boat Topsey from the Columbia boat house, at the foot of Madison street, yesterday afteracon at about 8 80 o'chek, and went out for a sail. It was evident from the start that none of the boys knew any too well how to manage the boat, and the apectators on shore watched the movements of the craft not without serious misgivings.

There was quite a brisk breese blowing, and the boat, being of a very short build, it was somewhat difficult to manage. The boys sig zagged about perhaps half an hour and when at a point two-thirds across the river, on a line from the Columbia boat house to the Rask Portland landing of the Jefferson street ferry the bost capsized and the three occupants were thrown into the river.

the three occupants were thrown into the river. The people on shore saw the three boys in the water, but as no boat was near, it was plain that their only salvation would be to regain hold of their neturned boat. After a few minutes nothing more was seen of them and it was supposed that all were drewned. A skiff was at once sent out and, as it apprecached the capsized boat, one of the boys was found still clinging to her side. This fortunate survivor was George Rogers. He was taken to the land and at once hustied off to his bome on Rast Parkand Harrison street, for he himsalf was almost exhausted from struggling in the water.

The upturned craft was afterwards righted near the Morrison street bridge and then returned to

YOUNG BOGERS & STORY

George Rogers, the only survivor of the accident, was seen at his home an hour or two after the drowning of his companions, and he related the circumstances of the sade affair "Mose and I 'said he, "were out for a walk, when we need Harry Geohring on Washington street. He happened to be out for a walk too, and, as we are all shuns, warking in the same office for Meston & Dygart, he coined us. Not knowing just where to appeal an lour or two I suggested that we go down to the river, and if nothing more, waste the boats. We were down at the boathouse but a short time when some one proposed a boat-ride While we were heattaing whether or not to take a boat. Gebring said that want to go sailing, owing to the meanness of his dinner hour, but when he saw that we were determined to go, be said that he would accompany is.
"Finally we engaged a boat, the Topsey and staried to turn the bost, so as to tack for the other or west bank.

"As he turned the radder, and changed the sail, the wind failed to catch the canvas. It seems that he did not manage tight, and we did not got over to the other vide of the post quick enough, for the next moment a vast of wind capaised the boat and landed us indhe water.

"We all grappied for the bottom of the boat, and soon Goahring and I reached it. Danziger, who was still in the water hollowed, Oh, George! Oh George!" and by a quick effort I managed to pull him on the boat with us. For a few minutes all three of in were asfe on the boat. Then we saw it was sinking, we jumped and started to swim for where

Although the work of dragging the river was oscuted with great diligence until a late hour it night, the bodies were not recovered. The river will again be required this morning and if aucress attends the use of grapping hooks, crail charges of dynamite or giant powder will exploded in hopes that the bodies will be disaged by that means.

C J Smith, Portland James McGarry, who lets the steamer Alaskan on sile rait with the chief engineer and two other men arrived here this evening. The other three men died.

C W LOGGIE.

Mr Smith also received a dispatch from Mr Loggie, who is agent for the Oregon Southdra Improvement Company at Empires City, stating that he had theard that a party of men from the Alaskan had landed at the mouth of the Suslaw that he had heard that a party of men from the Ataskan had landed at the mouth of the Sunslaw He said they ware six in number. The raft, on which HeGatty espaped, he and landed at the mouth of the Dapapa, which is about twenty miles from Empire City.

Mr Smith telegacybed to Mr Loggie instructing him to shid out if possible if there were not eleven man in the party that arrived at the mouth of the Sinalaw, but received no answer, the wires evidantly being dawn. Mr Smiths reasang for doing this was to determine, if possible, if it was not the same party whose names were published in Thus Bundary On Econtan Hasiao instructed Mr. Loggie to send out a man to carefully traverse the coast as Hasouth as Cape Binnes with the hope of finding more survivors from the week that might have reashed shore alive, also to provide them with neversities and transportation to Portland. The O. R. & N. Co., through the agent of the O. d. C. at Eugene City is doing all it can for the men who safety landed at the mouth of the Susiakw and will have them brought to this city as soon as practicable.

will have them brought to this city as soon as practicable

It is more than likely that the party referred to be Mr. Loggie as landing at the mouth of the frapeula is one of the eleven that landed at the Studiew, and came on up the coast but it seems singular that the name of Chief Engineer Swain should be mentioned as arriving on a raft as Captain Howes is certain that Swain did not leave the Aleskan on a raft, but might poss bly have been picked up later by one.

The Oracoskan is unable to give any further information than the above, not being able to creat Empire City by telegraph sesterday. If the report of the landing of Water Itadic Medarry at the mouth of the Uniquia be true further particulars will be received to-day.
